Fully Responsive Design
A single URL is always better than two
As we said, a single but responsive website allows you to keep your backlinks and therefore you can focus on one SEO campaign, which is for sure cheaper than two. Consequently, all your links will be directed to one domain which increases your website in the search engine results page. Also your social shares will be built on one URL, so when your site is shared all the content will be clear and consistent, regardless the device. Last but not least, responsive eliminates the time for waiting useless redirects.
